TRY OR TOUCH-DOWN - RUGBY ANALYSIS

The sport of Rugby has been with us for well over one hundred years. The game began when a soccer player decided to run with the ball instead of merely kicking it around the field or "pitch", as it is properly named. The object then, as now, was to score a goal, in soccer, and a "try" in Rugby. To score this try a player must touchdown the ball behind the goal posts. Unfortunately for Rugby spectators, American football stole the term "Touch-down". When all a football player has to do to score is cross the goal line, a try conversely is scored by placing the ball in contact with the ground.

Rugby is similar to a number of other games. A "jumpball" for possession in basketball is very similar to a "lineout" for possession in Rugby. Everybody jumps for the ball when it is thrown over their heads. This is derived from the throw-in of soccer. It is as rough as the face-off in Hockey, and has nothing to with Baseball! Bearing this in mind the line-out becomes an intelligent means of getting the ball back into play.

The game begins with the kickoff, practically identical to American Football, with the same objectives. Once again, the kickoff found its origin in the game of soccer. The backfield of a Rugby side has the same responsibilities as the American football backs. Run and score, or at least make a good show of it. There are 7 pretty-boys in the flyhalf, standoff, or out-half. The third and fourth are the inside center and outside centers. The last men are called the wingers, as in soccer and hockey. The final back who plays solo is the fullback.

Perhaps the most unique aspect of Rugby is the scrum, consisting of 8 players, akin to the "line" of American football. This group of beasts, because they are almost always larger and more brutish then the graceful backs, do the dirty work in Rugby. These are fearless gents with names such as: "hooker" (there is only one of these, because they are rare breed), "prop"(there are 2), "flanker"(2 also), "locks" (2 once again), and the

"8-person" (contest for possession of the ball in the lineout and scrummage). The scrummage must be seen to be understood.

With 15 of these indomitable specimens on each team, for a total of 30 being on the field until injury knocks one or two from the contest, the game becomes quite a spectacular affair unlike any other! A player with the ball may run, he may pass (but only laterally), he may punt at will, and he may be tackled by an opponent. He also may wind up on the ground under a ruck, much like a loose scrum, or he may be trapped with the ball in an upright position called a maul. The possibilities are limitless! If you want more information ask any Harlequin too injured or tired to play at our next match.

Tenth Annual Lakefront 7's Rugby Tournament

This is the tenth year of this tournament, and it is fast becoming one of the best in the Midwest for the development of 7's rugby. Though not a Midwest championship, it certainly brings the best in the Midwest together for a thorough test. We have had teams from throughout the country, and it has been the tradition, the past champions have always returned to defend their titles.

Last year's champions, Las Vegas RFC, Chicago Lions RFC, B and A division respectively, return at full strength with hopes of repeating, although some really up-and coming clubs will have something to say as well!

Past Champions -- A Division:

1983	Quad City Irish
1984	Quad City Irish (Eventual National 7's Champion)
1985	Quad City Irish (Eventual National 7's Champion)
1986	Quad City Irish
1987	Milwaukee Rugby Football Club
1988	University of Kansas RFC
1989	Cleveland Rovers RFC
1990	Chicago Lions RFC
1991	Chicago Lions RFC

We are very grateful to Summerfest for their generosity in allowing us to hold this event during their biggest festival of the year. Without their great co-operation, this event would not have attained the stature that it has.

"HARLEQUIN GOLD"

In our little Rugby Manual, it's written plain and clear
That who would wear the green and gold would say good-bye to fear;
Shall be a stalwart on the pitch; a taster of the ale -
In our little Rugby Manual; there's no such word as "fail" -
Shall struggle on through summer's heat and early winter's freeze,
Thrice round the pitch, if need there be, on bleeding hand and knees.
It's training, training, first and last, the Rugby Manual saith;
The Emer'old rugger makes reply, "It's training to the death."
The forwards scour the rucks and mauls and mock at hurt and pain,
And read their Rugby Manual and find their duty plain
Knights of the lists of unrenown, born of the athlete's need,
Disdainful of the spoken word, exultant in the deed;
Unconscious heroes of the waste, proud players of the game,
Backs are the power behind the pack, upholders of name:
For thus the founding lads hath said, "Our town needs gold and 'grins'." And to maintain their word they formed
The Westside Harlequins.

WESTSIDE HARLEQUINS TOUR THE UNITED KINGDOM WORLDCUP 1992

Last October, the Westside Harlequins, accompanied by fellow ruggers from other Milwaukee area rugby clubs, traveled to Wales and England for a ten day tour of the U.K. On our way, we picked up one more. While in Boston waiting for our connecting flight to London, we spotted a dedicated Rugby player making a solo trip to watch World Cup matches. He had his kit bag in tow and was a fair size prop (you don't pass up props). We were traveling with a short side so we invited him to join us. He turned out to be a valuable asset to the team. While on tour we played three matches, which proved to be both challenging and educational. "Educational" is emphasized as we were clearly outmatched in both skill and number. But we were able to enjoy clean, hard, rugby, played with the type of strategy and finesse the game is meant to have.

The tour started in Gorseinen, Wales, where we were hosted by the Gorseinen Rugby Club. This club has visited us twice and this was our third tour with them. We had an excellent time rekindling our friendship bonds. Their hospitality couldn't have been better as they took us sight-seeing to historical castles, transported us to two excellent World Cup Rugby matches (Australia vs. Argentina and Wales vs. Western Samoa). They also kept a careful eye on us to insure we always had a good pint of lager beer in hand.

Just a side note, for you ruggers that have never experienced what it's like to play on a perfectly groomed pitch, freshly softened by a gentle rain, under lights ... it's fantastic!! This pitch in Gorseinen turned out to be the best we played on and was even better than a couple of the pitches the World Cup teams played on.

After three days of rugby, beer and late night Indian cuisine (do not eat the hot stuff the night before a rugby match), we were off to Bedlinog, Wales where we joined up with the Bedlinog R.F.C. This team and the Westside Harlequins go way back, as we have hosted them and them us several times over the past ten years. From small coal mining town, this club knows three things: how to mine coal, how to play rugby; and how to have a good time. And they know how to do each of these things equally well. Out of the three matches we played, this was by far the most grueling defeat because the game was played in a driving cold rain with an outside temperature of around 40 degrees (that's colder in Celsius). The score was something like 60 to nil (we are purposely trying to forget) led in large part by an incredibly strong and quick pack that had the art of rucking and mauling down to a science. Even the backs did this well which proved how important this part of the game is in gaining and maintaining possession.

At the party, this club confessed that they put their best side together, which was done to make up for the match they lost to the Harlequins the last time they were here. Yes they take their rugby very seriously!

Our last stop was in Cirencester, England, where we played one match with the Cirencester R.F.C. That was probably our best performance, it was a low scoring game which saw a lot of good individual performances. Our stay was only one day there and the rest of the time was spent sight-seeing in London. A few of us did manage to get in to see the United States play Wales. (No need to mention the outcome of that game.)

All in all, the trip was a very enjoyable experience that allowed us to see and do a lot of different things. We feel it is important for tours like this to be arranged and equally important to host them. Our type of rugby is different than theirs and we have a wonderful opportunity to learn a lot about both the game and the culture of rugby.
